Marqit Internship Program

About Marqit

Marqit (playmarqit.com) is a free daily prediction game — three Yes/No calls a day on sports, pop culture, and news, plus streaks, leaderboards, buddies, and rivals. It has no purchases, no wagering, and no cash prizes. Marqit is a project of Grand Media Group LLC, a content development company that has worked with Parade, Athlon Sports, and College Football on SI.

Mentorship

Every intern is mentored one-on-one by Max Escarpio, owner of Grand Media Group.

- Weekly check-in: every Thursday, about 30 minutes by video or phone.
- Feedback on everything: nothing is published until Max approves it.
- Midpoint review: a video meeting with Max 30 days into the internship.
- Final meeting: a video meeting with Max two weeks before the internship ends.
- After the term: interns in good standing receive a reference and a LinkedIn recommendation.

Marketing and Advertising Intern

- Build simple campaign plans: goal, audience, message, and timeline
- Write outreach messages and newsletter blurbs for clubs, community groups, and local media
- The main goal is getting new users: reach communities of friends, teams, and clubs and get them playing Marqit
- Track weekly results, such as replies, shares, and sign-ups

Looking for: students in marketing, advertising, business, or communications who write clearly and follow through.

Content and Social Media Intern

- Plan and post content on TikTok and Facebook
- Film and edit short videos reacting to each day's Marqit calls
- Turn streaks, Perfect Days, and leaderboard climbs into clips and graphics
- The main goal is getting users and driving viewership to the site: make videos built to go viral that send viewers straight to playmarqit.com

Looking for: students active on TikTok and Facebook who are comfortable filming and editing video and write in a strong, casual voice.
